The Lady Or the Tiger? Frank Richard Stockton,1986 The famous story of the princess who must choose the fate for her lover--the lady or the tiger--is presented with its sequel about a prince who must choose the wife he has married while blindfolded from a line of forty women.

The Lady, Or the Tiger? Frank Richard Stockton,2014-08-03 This collection of literature attempts to compile many of the classic, timeless works that have stood the test of time and offer them at a reduced, affordable price, in an attractive volume so that everyone can enjoy them.

The Lady, Or the Tiger? Frank Richard Stockton,2017-02-17 Called the most famous riddle mystery of all time, this very short story poses a dilemma. A man is sentenced to an unusual punishment for having a romance with a king's beloved daughter. Taken to the public arena, he is faced with two doors, behind one of which is a hungry tiger that will devour him. Behind the other is a beautiful lady-in-waiting, whom he will have to marry if he finds her. While the crowd waits anxiously for his decision, he sees the princess among the spectators, who points him to the door on the right with a slight movement of her hand. The lover starts to open the door and ... Did the princess save her lover's life by pointing to the door leading to the lady-in-waiting, or did she prefer to see her lover die rather than see him marry someone else?

The Lady, Or the Tiger? (Large Print) Frank Richard Stockton,2013-05-02 In the very olden time there lived a semi-barbaric king, whose ideas, though somewhat polished and sharpened by the progressiveness of distant Latin neighbors, were still large, florid, and untrammelled, as became the half of him which was barbaric. He was a man of exuberant fancy, and, withal, of an authority so irresistible that, at his will, he turned his varied fancies into facts. He was greatly given to self-communing, and, when he and himself agreed upon anything, the thing was done.

The Lady, Or the Tiger? (Illustrated) Frank R Stockton,2020-11-05 The Lady, or the Tiger? is a much-anthologized short story written by Frank R. Stockton for publication in the magazine The Century in 1882. The Lady, or the Tiger? has entered the English language as an allegorical expression, a shorthand indication or signifier, for a problem that is unsolvable.

The Lady, Or the Tiger? Frank R. Frank R. Stockton, 2021-08-23 Frank R. Stockton's 'The Lady or the Tiger?' is a short story begins with the portrayal of a half-barbaric king who is an unpredictable man. He is inclined to transforming odd likes he has into the real world. The story revolves around the king's manner to deal with equity. He has built a public arena with two doors from the idea received from distant Latin neighbors. Any individual under his rule who carries out a crime of adequate intrigue is brought to the arena where they should pick their destiny by choosing between two doors. A savage and ferocious tiger is left behind one door that will kill the individual alive. Behind the other door is a reasonable woman and the individual should marry her immediately whether he likes her or not. So the destiny of the individual is sentenced to some coincidence. It has been known to every person under his rule.

Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1884 edition. Excerpt: ... A PIECE OF RED CALICO. /TR. EDITOR: If the following true experience -m-I shall prove of any advantage to any of your readers, I shall be glad. I was going into town the other morning, when my wife handed me a little piece of red calico, and asked me if I would have time, during the day, to buy her two yards and a half of calico like that. I assured her that it would be no trouble at all; and putting the piece of calico in my pocket, I took the train for the city. At lunch-time I stopped in at a large dry-goods store to attend to my wife's commission. I saw a well-dressed man walking the floor between the counters, where long lines of girls were waiting on much longer lines of customers, and asked him where I could see some red calico. This way, sir, and he led me up the store. Miss Stone, said he to a young lady, show this gentleman some red calico. What shade do you want? asked Miss Stone. I showed her the little piece of calico that my wife had given me. She looked at it and handed it back to me. Then she took down a great roll of red calico and spread it out on the counter. Why, that isn't the shade! said I. No, not exactly, said she; but it is prettier than your sample. That may be, said I; but, you see, I want to match this piece. There is something already made of this kind of calico, which needs to be made larger, or mended, or something. I want some calico of the same shade. The girl made no answer, but took down another roll. That's the shade, said she. Yes, I replied, but it's striped. Stripes are more worn than any thing else in calicoes, said she. Yes; but this isn't to be worn. It's for furniture, I think. At any rate, I want perfectly plain stuff, to match something already in use. Well, I...

Content Area Reading and Learning Diane Lapp, James Flood, Nancy Farnan, 2016-11-18 How can teachers make content-area learning more accessible to their students? This text addresses instructional issues and provides a wealth of classroom strategies to help all middle and secondary teachers effectively enable their students to develop both content concepts and strategies for continued learning. The goal is to help teachers model, through excellent instruction, the importance of lifelong content-area learning. This working textbook provides students maximum interaction with the information, strategies, and examples presented in each chapter. This book is organized around five themes: Content Area Reading: An Overview The Teacher and the Text The Students The Instructional Program School Culture and Environment in Middle and High School Classrooms. Pedagogical features in each chapter include: a graphic organizer; a chapter overview, Think Before, Think While and Think After Reading Activities - which are designed to integrate students' previous knowledge and experience with their new learnings about issues related to content area reading, literacy, and learning, and to serve as catalysts for thinking and discussions. This textbook is intended as a primary text for courses on middle and high school content area literacy and learning.

The Lady or the Tiger Peter Lantos,2019-07-31 In this intriguing tale, two distinctly different lives intersect with unpredictable, tragic consequences. John Weyland is a hard working business man, struggling on two fronts. At home, his wife feeds her hunger for self indulgence with material objects, as she desperately climbs the social ladder. At the office, he is tormented by the questionable practices of corporate executives driven by lust for power. Maria Nystrom is a brilliant researcher whose aspiration is to apply her knowledge of chemistry for the betterment of life for mankind. After a brief, failed marriage, she meets John, the two fall in love, and she leads John to a totally different, more fulfilling kind of life. Fate, however, intervenes and John, who has been unable make important decisions, suddenly has to make the most important choice of his life. Will he be able to make it?
